

Reception Counters

ATIXA

design: Piotr Kuchciński

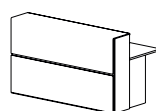

ATIXA equals fine taste and superb quality. These new reception counters feature a modern form manifested in a unique way. The shape required by selected special materials makes this restrained form mesmerising, thanks to which, the interior looks extraordinary.

The essential element is the LED lights installed on the fronts and sides of the counters, which provides the feeling of lightness and is pleasing to the eye. After all, you can make a first impression once!

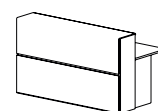

ATIXA is a reception counter made in Corian. The tall counters are available in two sizes: 200 cm and 160 cm. The modules can be combined, creating long furniture segments.

The illuminated counter sides are a separate element successfully completing the whole installation.

An additional functionality is provided thanks to the interior elements of the counters, such as mobile shelves for documents and upholstered panels. It is these very elements that make the workplace look well-organised. Mounting desk outlets and cable ports in desktops and cables ducts under desks ensure the maximum functionality and ergonomics of the furniture.
